Independence or Annexation to the United States Wanted.

THE GREAT OTTAWA CONVENTION.

The Speakers Urgo the Most Radical Measures of Tariff Reform and Reciprocity with this Country-The Protective Tariff too High for Them. The Suggestion of Union With this Country is Cheered, Though Independence is the Most Popular.

OTTAWA, ONT., June 21.-Eighteen hundred delegates, nearly double that expected, gathered in the Liberal convention yesterday. Sir Oliver Mowett was chairman and his speech was the feature of the afternoon session. The Ontario premier urged the most radical measures of tariff reform and a sweeping measure of reciprocity with the United States. He said some opponents of the Liberals accused them of feeling so strongly on this point that if they could not get relief otherwise they (the Liberals) were ready to go for annexation to the states. He denied that nexation to the states. He denied that the mass of the party would tolerate any such idea. He was condent that the party was solid for British connections. This was received with silence by the convention, but the fact that Mowett read the speech from manuscript in a somewhat weak voice made his whole address seem flat.

At the evening session Mr. Laurier addressed the convention. He quoted the census figures showing that 1,000,000 Canadians had gone to the states in

000 Canadians had gone to the states in ten years, and he ascribed this chiefly to the extertionate tariff. This had led many to speculate as to Canada's future. He proceeded to mention Canada's three possible futures. The convention listened in silence. There was inde-pendence [cheers], and there was union with the great country to the south. This last also received some cheers.

Mr. Laurier went on to score the high tariff. He said that a Liberal party was thrin. He said that a Liberal party was clear in the issue it set before people—that was free trade as opposed to the rascally policy of protection's sake. The circumstances developed by high tariff rendered it impossible to reach the ideal at once, but from this time forward let the Liberal warty set steedily before it for years if steedily before it for years. party sot steadily before it for years, if necessary, the achievement of this ideal. He proceeded to emphasize the desirability of trade reciprocity with the states, and declared that the states of states, and declared that the states of England were incompatible, he declared that if the interests of England and Canada were incompatible he for one, must take his stand as a Canadian.

[Ool. W. W. Arnett, of Wheeling, was an applicant for the assistant attorney generalship and was being strongly urged by members of the Weat Virginia delegation. It will be remembered that sometime since Hon. C. Wood Dailey, of Mineral county, was offered the place, but declined it. It is thought that had Col. Arnett been earlier in the field his chances of appointment would have been much better.]

Breadstuffs and Provisions

Brendstuffs and Provisions.

CHICAGO, June 21.—A report that $1,500,000 gold was engaged by New York banks for shipment by steamers sailing from England to morrow, converted a very week grain market into a strong one, and wheat and corn both recovered from breaks they made in the first hour.

The early decline in wheat was a contibuation of the weakers which existed yesterday, helped along by the weaker and lower cable advices and the report on the French crop in an English journal, which said the damage to the French crops had been overestimated. There was a good domand, however, at the decline, and a sharp raily in prices followed. Inquiry at the banks brought the information that all the principal institutions would continue to carry the wheat they had already advanced.

Corn opened weak and lower, later became strong, and closed steady at near the highest. Oats duil.

Provisions were weak on heavy receipts of bogs, and closed st considerable declines since yesterday.
